

BODYPACE

Daily going to the gym and working out might get boring sometimes as your environment and surroundings do not change. To make it more interesting, we at BUCKUP provide you with various surroundings integrated with virtual reality or meta-verse, as the new generation calls it. In our application, a gym owner/trainer can register/buy profiles/ids for their users and select the workout from various available options. These ids/profiles can be purchased through monthly subscriptions by the owner and then be given to their clients via the unique profiles.

With the unique profiles, we will also provide you with VR boxes. You have to install our application, register via your gym, ask your trainer to select your workout, choose an environment of your preference, and start your training in an exotic location.

Imagine running in a forest one day and on a farm on another while spending zero capital on travel, being absolutely safe, and all of this right from your very own gym with the guidance of your trainer.

Not just this, you can get access to the number of calories burnt and later convert them into xps.. These can be later redeemed as coupons in collaboration with our future partners / sponsors such as MyProtein, BOAT, NEXTGEN, MYn, etc.

Also, you get access to leader boards where you can compete with your own gym partners and other fitness enthusiasts around the globe.

With our weekly contests and giveaways, you can enjoy your fitness voyage with fun and enthusiasm.

So accompany us on this quirky journey of fitness and excursion with us.

With regards
Team BUCKUP
